This thread discusses the Content article: Cape Coral - Foster's Grille

My husband and I also made an attempt to try this "new" eatery in town. The moment he was handed the order form we made a bee line out of there. He has this thing about not being waited on. As for the tip, if someone has to bring us our food or maybe brings us a refill on our drink we will leave a dollar per person (this is when dining out with friends, without my husband, he doesn't stay long enough to order food!)

My wife and I stopped in for a burger and a few brews. Decided to sit at the bar. Had to settle tab after EVERY beer, could not run a tab. Thought that was strange.
